

SUNKEN CORAL GARDENS

Sunken Coral Gardens are a breathtaking, yet terrifying, spectacle. Once vibrant reefs now lie choked by a creeping, bioluminescent blight, the parasitic growth pulsing with an unnatural life force. Powerful currents and whirlpools, born from the growth's insatiable hunger, relentlessly churn the waters, reshaping the labyrinthine coral structures and threatening to pull unwary travelers into the abyss.

ADVENTURE HOOKS & RUMORS

- Whispers among surface divers speak of Merfolk patrols, their spears glinting in the gloom, driving away any who approach the blighted reefs. They claim the growth is a festering wound, and outsiders are only hastening its spread.
- A desperate plea has reached the surface – a Merfolk elder seeks aid in finding a way to sever the parasitic growth's connection to the coral, before it can breach the barriers protecting the world above. The elder offers ancient knowledge in exchange for assistance.
- Sailors report strange, swirling vortexes appearing near the sunken gardens, pulling ships off course and dragging them down into the crushing depths. Some believe these are not natural phenomena, but manifestations of the parasitic growth's power.

The air is thick with the sound of rushing water and faint, mournful whispers carried on the currents the remnants of the coral's life force. Patches of the creeping blight are visible, clinging to the remaining coral, a sickly contrast to the vibrant hues of the healthy reefs that once thrived here.

TREASURE

- Sunken Amulet of Tide Control: Grants limited control over currents, but prolonged use risks attracting dangerous creatures.
- Bioluminescent Scale of Protection: Provides resistance to the blight's effects, but emits a distracting glow.
- Ancient Coral Scepter: Amplifies magical abilities, but can also attract the attention of powerful, unseen entities.

NPCS

- Coralia Swiftfin: A wise Merfolk elder, cautious but willing to help those who prove their worth.
- Kaelen Deepwater: A rebellious Merfolk warrior, distrustful of authority and eager to fight the blight.

PLOT RESOLUTIONS

- The adventurers could broker a fragile peace between the Merfolk and the rebellious warriors, choosing to either side with the elder's cautious approach or the warrior's aggressive one. This choice will determine the Merfolk's trust and the resources they'll offer, impacting their ability to combat the blight.
- The PCs might discover a hidden chamber containing a ritual to sever the blight's connection to the coral, but performing it requires a sacrifice – a valuable treasure, a personal memory, or even a life. The consequence of failure is the blight's rapid spread, while success offers a chance to heal the gardens but potentially enrage unseen entities.
- The adventurers could attempt to harness the power of the bioluminescent blight itself, using the Ancient Coral Scepter to amplify their abilities and fight back. However, this path carries the risk of corruption, attracting Vorlag the Shadow Broker and potentially turning them into agents of the blight.
